DOCA / EDOCA Seminar

I recently had the privilege to speak at this years Design Out Crime Association / European Design Our Crime Association seminar in Amsterdam The main program focused on 'Safe and Secure Schools' with a short presentation on offender techniques. The speakers focused on the following .

- Is safety and security on schools a problem in your country?
- What type of problems you are dealing with?
- What kind of solutions do you have?
- Is CPTED part of the solutions?

The speakers were:

Paul van Soomeren DSP-groep and President of EDOCA served as the host and along with Myrthe Scillings presented on Safety in Dutch Schools.

Tim Pascoe Perpetuity Research and Consultancy International PRCI and President of DOCA presented on Offender Techniques.

Art Hushen National Institute of Crime Prevention NICP and Chair of the Florida CPTED Network presented on CPTED in American Schools.

Agnes Pradet Forum Francais pour la Securite Urbaine presented on Safety in French Schools.

Inside Story Headline

A tour was conducted of a Dutch school highlighting many of the CPTED strategies discussed during the seminar. Following the seminar was a social event which allowed many of us the opportunity to meet and discuss issues that affect our schools and the roles we could play in helping each other design safe schools. I would like to personally thank Paul, Tim, Terry, and all of the members of DOCA and EDOCA for their great hospitality. I hope to see them in the U.S. soon.

The Four Arts

During a recent CPTED training session with the Florida Attorney General’s Office a very strange thing occurred. The sound of many different voices calling “Art” could be heard through out the room. After each calling of “Art”, a second voice could be heard. That voice would shout “Which One?” If this was confusing for the participants, imagine the plight of Ed Isbell, who had to make sure the right Art was the right Art. Or was it the left Art?
